Comparison of Miracle Balance Holographic Wristband Technology

Including other Powered by Miracle Balance Technologies to wrist bands currently on the market.

Holographic signal transduction technology was initially developed in 2006. Other companies are now finding holograms can be programmed to create a response by the body to varying degrees and uses; certainly proving the development of holographic technology has come of age. The vast majority of products claiming they are power wristbands are not POWERED at all.

Miracle Balance Holographic Wrist Bands

Other Wrist Bands

Claims:

Negative ions, bio coherence, strength endurance, balance, pH increase, motion sickness control, pain relief, increased circulation, EMF Counterbalancing. Other holograms are programmed for additional effects like deeper sleep, weight loss, detoxification, and other natural non-invasive boosting formulas by way of acupuncture points and meridians.

Balance and strength only noted on websites. Power Balance, the largest band company, has admitted their claims have no valid proof outside a placebo effect.

No other companies we are aware of have any studies or science to back up claims.

Proof of Claims:

Biocoherence machine testing with a number machines, blood testing, heart rate variability,

Kinesiology testing only noted on websites.

thermal image testing, machine balance testing, pH and ORP testing and major university double blind, placebo controlled research study.

Kinesiology testing performed with competing products can be performed also by Miracle Balance testers.

Power Force, Power Balance, EFX, etc show no proof of claims.

Note: Miracle Balance testers use Kinesiology as a fun way of showing changes with Miracle Balance wristbands, but do not make claims based on Kinesiology.

Band Design:

Silicon pharmaceutical grade band infused with minerals for pH and ORP. MB Disc holograms (2). True holograms with three layers of energetically machine tested dimensional structure, geometric patterns and numbers separated by the Golden Mean. No hologram name due to private labeling.

Silicon band – no notation on grade, unknown hologram, if any. No apparent holographic dimensional structure. Logo embossed on holograms only. Power Force, Logo only, claims ions.

Holographic Programming:

MB holographic signal transduction programming using longitudinal scalar waves in a closed circuit array that carries information and energy in the same wave form. Carrier waves in the millions of Hz range modulated by specific scalar molecular signatures converted from frequencies of light and sound.

Radionics signals likely, if any. Radionics uses a disbursed signal that is not as effective as longitudinal scalar waves. Power Balance, Power Force and EFX have no programming of any type explained on line.

Band Programming:

MB Bands are programmed with the same imprinting as the inserted Miracle Balance holograms creating an additional holographic informational circle around the wrist, ankle, or arm.

No band programming noted on websites.

Longitudinal scalar waves are known to transmit through any material leaving a holographic imprint on material that has the properties to hold a memory.

Testimonies:

Testimonies on the MB website are not paid testimonies.

Testimonies are reportedly paid for on Power. Balance and others.
